

Reminder: Survey on vaccination rate among students

Dear students,

over 5600 students at Humboldt-Universität have already taken part in our short survey on vaccination status - thank you for that. All those who have not yet done so can still do so until 3 September. Please participate!

The survey results support the Berlin universities in being able to plan reliably and with a high level of health protection for the coming winter semester. A high vaccination rate makes it possible to better deal with a fourth wave of the Corona pandemic and to implement or secure courses in attendance under supplementary hygiene conditions on campus despite rising incidence figures.

The survey is conducted on behalf of the State Conference of Rectors and Presidents of Berlin Universities and implemented by the Technische Universität. The evaluation is, of course, anonymous.
