

Reminder: Register your projects for the Long Night of the Sciences by 10 February

Researchers from all HU institutions are cordially invited to participate in the Long Night of the Science on 17 June and to register their projects with the HU Event Management by 10 February. This will sift through the registered projects and get back to the participants with the access code for the central database entry for the Long Night of Science. It will take place from 22 February to 22 March.

The Long Night of the Science is a joint project of many scientific institutions in Berlin and Potsdam, which are united in an association. The rotating chairmanship is held for two years by HU President Julia von Blumenthal. The office of the association is headed by Nicola Rother. In the interview, she reports on what is currently keeping her busy, which professional experiences are particularly useful to her and what she particularly likes about the Long Night of the Sciences.
